

Radio Ready.

JTRS HMS Rifleman Radio is the only radio available today that meets the U.S. Military's security and waveform standards to bring true networking connectivity to the brave men and women on the frontlines.

The Armed Forces have a new network. Time for the right radio.

Out at the edge of the battlefield, Rifleman Radios form on-the-go networks so you can safely talk, text message, chat and send pictures – completely changing the way you communicate. JTRS HMS connects you and your GPS position to the combat network, so the information you need to do your job is readily accessible, and your leaders get information faster.

Get in the network. Carry JTRS HMS. Ask for Rifleman Radio today.
